

National Institute
on Drug Abuse

Intervention Research to Improve Native American Health (IRINAH)

Informational Webinar: What's New with the IRINAH NOFOs?

Held on January 25, 2024. Scan the QR code below to view the webinar recording and access the webinar materials, including slides and list of FAQs.

The IRINAH program was created to develop, adapt, and test the effectiveness of health-promotion and disease-prevention interventions in Native American populations.

Notices of Funding Opportunities (NOFOs)

R01 - PAR-23-298 - <https://go.nih.gov/QRAZXaa>

R21 - PAR-23-299 - <https://go.nih.gov/EIVidUB>

R34 - PAR-23-285 - <https://go.nih.gov/yy78ZgD>

Application Due Dates

Applications are due October 21 in 2024, 2025, and 2026

AIDS/HIV-related research applications are due January 7 in 2025, 2026

Goals of the NOFOs

To support research on interventions, including:

- etiologic research that will directly inform intervention development or adaptations
- research that develops, adapts, or tests interventions for health promotion, prevention, treatment, or recovery
- research on dissemination and implementation that develops and tests strategies to overcome barriers to the adoption, integration, scale-up, and sustainability of effective interventions

For more information, please contact:

Dr. Alexa Romberg (alexa.romberg@nih.gov) or

Dr. Sarah Vidal (sarah.vidal@nih.gov)